Terms and Conditions

All participants in the SNF Nostos Run: Running into the Future, designed and implemented by the nonprofit Regeneration & Progress, henceforth “Organizing Committee,” on behalf of the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF), henceforth collectively “Organizers,” fully understand and discern that road race running is an activity testing physical and mental limits and can be dangerous for any person’s physical integrity. Every participant assumes and undertakes full responsibility regarding any physical issue and their ability to participate in the race under any weather circumstances.

The Organizers have no responsibility in case of any physical, material, or moral damage that may occur by any cause, before, during, or after the road race run to participants, spectators, or other party involved in the race, while all race participants waive unconditionally any claims against the Organizers.

In case of medical treatment needed during the race, all participants authorize the Organizers to undertake any measures or actions needed, including hospital admittance, if it is rendered necessary for their safety. Also, all participants authorize and agree to the use of images taken, their names, voice and words on the television, radio, films, newspapers, magazines, internet and social media and other media of any kind, aiming to advertise and promote the run and its aims, and waive any claims against the Organizers.

Please note that the SNF Nostos Run will be conducted in accordance with the laws and guidelines in effect at the time of the race as determined by the relevant authorities—always with the goal of safeguarding the health of the public and participants, and of limiting the spread of COVID-19. Registered runners will be informed in advance of any modifications to the conditions of participation, in addition to health measures which may be implemented before and during the race.

Participation in the race will be permitted only to runners who have completed and submitted, on time, a valid registration and have received the race pack prior to the race. Participants should follow the rules of competition before, during, and after the race.

Payment of the participation fee is mandatory for all runners. The money raised by the runners will not be used to cover the production costs of the SNF Nostos Run but will be donated to the nonprofit organizations selected by the Organizers in support of their charitable activities, split equally between them.
