All participants in the SNF Run: First Run, implemented through an exclusive grant from the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF), under the organizational supervision of the nonprofit "Regeneration & Progress", henceforth collectively "Organizers" in collaboration with the Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center (SNFCC),, fully understand and discern that road race running is an activity testing physical and mental limits and can be dangerous for any person's physical integrity. Every participant assumes and undertakes full responsibility regarding any physical issue and their ability to participate in the race under any weather conditions.

The Organizers have no responsibility in case of any physical, material, or moral damage that may occur by any cause, before, during, or after the road race run to participants, spectators, or other party involved in the race, while all race participants waive unconditionally any claims against the Organizers.

In case of medical treatment needed during the race, all participants authorize the Organizers to undertake any measures or actions needed, including hospital admittance, if it is rendered necessary for their safety.

Also, all participants consent to the use of their images, likeness, name, voice and words including whatever editing, cutting, or application of directorial, graphic, or other type of effect, on the television, radio, films, newspapers, magazines, internet, social media and other media of any kind, aiming to promote the run and its aims as well as the public benefit activities of the Organizers, and waive any claims against the Organizers.

Eligible for participation are adults and minors over the age of 10 years old, provided that they have submitted the consent form from their parents or legal guardians when registering online.

All registered participants will be given an official race number (a bib with the block number printed on it), a clear running bag, and an SNF Run shirt. Payment of the participation fee is mandatory for all runners. The money raised by the runners will not be used to cover the productions costs of the SNF Run: First Run, which are fully covered by SNF, but will be donated to the nonprofit organizations selected by the Organizers in support of their charitable activities, split equally between them.

The safety of runners and spectators is the highest priority of the Organizers.
